I have recently been informed of discussions within your organization to restrict or deny the ability of using options within a self-directed IRA. This proposed change will negatively impact the income I generate to supplement my retirement. I do not have a pension and depend solely upon Social Security and income generated from my investment portfolio (all through the selling of call options against held equity positions.)

IRA's comprise 60% of this portfolio.

Please do not deny my rights to invest my IRA funds as best fits my circumstances.

Sincerely,

James E. Jones
